January 2018

Welcome to 2018, our Fortieth Anniversary

We are excited to announce the launch of our new monthly digital Four Winds newsletter and introduce our new CEO. Our new format will provide us with the opportunity to provide you with important up-to-date and interesting information on a more regular basis. As you may have learned, the Medicaid system's transformation to managed care for children and adolescents has been delayed until 2020. We look forward to keeping you informed about the role Four Winds will play in the delivery system. Four Winds is committed to providing innovative, evidenced-based clinical care. The near future will bring continued expansion of our treatment services for children. Our digital newsletter will provide the perfect forum in which to highlight our clinical services and our clinical professionals committed to providing clinical excellence in a caring environment.

Four Winds Hospital New CEO

On January 1, 2018, Moira Morrissey, Esq., became CEO of Four Winds Hospital. Martin Buccolo, Ph.D, retired at the end of 2017 after 38 years. We thank Marty for his service to the hospital and our patients. Moira joined Four Winds in 1989 as General Counsel. She became Chief Operating Officer in 2008 and spearheaded the implementation of Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT) at Four Winds. We are celebrating our tenth anniversary of DBT treatment and 40 years of quality inpatient care.

Sarah Klagsbrun, M.D. Medical Director

Dr. Klagsbrun, the daughter of Four Winds founder Samuel Klagsbrun, M.D., has been Medical Director of Four Winds since 2014. She is uniquely qualified to continue her father's business values, treatment approach, and commitment to patients having both the professional qualifications and the desire to make a family business become a family legacy. As a child, Dr. Sarah Klagsbrun would accompany her father to the hospital. Her interest in medicine and psychiatry was due to a desire to continue in her father's footsteps. After graduating from Princeton University, she attended medical school at Albert Einstein College of Medicine. She became a child and adolescent board certified psychiatrist and was in private practice for 10 years from 2003 to 2013, until she joined Four Winds. She became Medical Director of Four Winds Hospital and an Assistant Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Albert Einstein College of Medicine since 2014 when the former medical director retired.
